<sup>2)</sup>	The differential balance is the difference between the deposit balances as of 31 December of the respective year and (i) the amount of CZK 40 million, or (ii) the average balance of the total volume of deposits determined from credit balances of deposits on the last day of each month in the period from September to November of the relevant year. The higher of the values under (i) and (ii) shall be used to calculate the differential balance. The balance of deposits as of 31 December and the average balance of deposits in accordance with (ii) shall always be expressed in CZK; the exchange rate announced by the Czech National Bank on the date on which the balance of the deposits is taken into account shall be used for making the eventual conversion. If the differential balance of the relevant year is negative, the fee shall be zero. The fee is due by the end of February in the year following 31 December of the relevant year, providing that the client must pay the fee based on the deposit balances as of 31 December of the relevant year.
